WINTER 2014

2014 BUDGET: No Tax or Utility Rate Increases

Dover Township is proud to present the highlights of the 2014 Budget. The Board of Supervisors has not increased taxes since 2008, when the millage rate was increased from .828 to 1 whole mil of tax. This means on a $100,000 assessed home, we receive $100.00 in real estate tax to use towards the General Fund Operations. Those operations include Parks and Recreation, Fire, Highway, Solid Waste Collection (Leaf and Brush Collection), Planning and Zoning, Police and Administration. The breakout of your $100 in tax real estate taxes is shown in the chart below.

GENERAL FUND BREAKOUT OF YOUR TAX DOLLARS PER $100 RECEIVED . . .

2014 will include various road and stormwater improvements. Stormwater work is planned for Cardinal Lane, Fox Run at Hunter Drive, Fox Run at Thunderbird Trailer Park, Emig Mill Road, and Deep Hollow Road. Road work has been slated for the Lauer Tract and Clair-Mar (Oil and Chip), North Salem from Canal to the curve (Reclamation), Rohlers Church from Mountain Road to Crone Road (Overlay), Deep Hollow Road (Overlay), and Tower Drive. In addition, approximately $27,000 is allotted for bridge maintenance work on the following bridges: Butter, Clearview, Dairy, Fox Run, Pine Hill, and Rohlers Church.

The Budget also includes maintenance work to the Township Building and Parks. A new furnace and LED lighting is scheduled for the Municipal Building. Painting and a new roof will be performed at the Community Park Log House. Painting and repairs will be made to the Barn at the former Golf Course property.

The Sewer Collection System is currently under a consent order with the Department of Environmental Protection to resolve infiltration and inflow into the system. We have budgeted significant funds to make repairs as breaks, cracks or leaks are discovered within the system. The Township and Sewer Authority will be working to address necessary repairs to the Fox Run Interceptor in 2014 with the expectation that 2015 will bring a large repair project to this major line within the system.

The Water System continues to work toward improvements by looking to install mixing equipment at the Staunton Tank, investigating a new well location at the McNaughton/Bupp property, and replacing water line on Pine Road and on Route 74 from Pine Road to Emig Mill Road. The Pine Road Project will be done in coordination with Columbia Gas's main replacement project. This joint project will reduce the cost of the project as Columbia Gas and Dover Township Water System will be splitting the cost to repair the street after the main replacements are complete.

As always, Dover Township will work diligently to provide you with quality services in the most efficient, professional and cost effective manner possible. We appreciate your selection of Dover Township as your home town!

REDUCING RUNOFF: CLEAN WATER IS EVERY RESIDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY

The next time it rains or when the snow starts melting with the approach of spring, take a look outside. There, you'll see water trickling over your lawn, down your driveway, and into the street.

To some, this may be a calming sight. However, for anyone who knows anything about runoff, this is an alarming event because as the water flows over land, it picks up debris, chemicals, dirt, and other pollutants and carries them to nearby streams, wetlands, lakes, and storm sewer systems. There, the runoff is discharged, untreated, into the water we all use for swimming, fishing, and drinking. As a result, stormwater runoff is one of the greatest threats to the nation's water supplies.

Instead of being part of the problem, though, township residents can be part of the solution by practicing healthy household habits that can keep common pollutants, including pesticides, pet waste, grass clippings, and automotive fluids, off the ground and out of stormwater. We've pulled together some suggestions to help you get started:

Vehicle and Garage

- Use a commercial car wash or wash your car on a lawn or other unpaved surface to minimize the amount of dirty, soapy water flowing into the storm drain and, eventually, local waters.
- Check your car, boat, motorcycle, and other machinery and equipment for leaks and spills. Make repairs as soon as possible. Be sure to clean up any spilled fluids with an absorbent material, such as kitty litter or sand, and remember: Don't rinse the spills into a nearby storm drain; instead, dispose of the absorbent material properly.
- Recycle used oil and other automotive fluids at participating service stations. Don't dump these chemicals down the storm drain or dispose of them in your trash.

Stormwater runoff tainted with all sorts of debris, chemicals, and dirt is one of the biggest threats to clean water nationwide. Township residents can lessen the problem by practicing healthy habits that keep common household pollutants out of stormwater.

What is stormwater runoff?

Stormwater runoff is precipitation (rain or melting snow) that flows across the land and could potentially infiltrate the soil, discharge directly into waterways or drain inlets, or evaporate into the atmosphere. In the natural environment, most precipitation is absorbed by trees and plants or permeates the ground, which results in stable stream flows and good water quality. However, things are much different in the built environment, where rain that falls on a roof, driveway, patio, or lawn runs off the surface more rapidly, picking up pollutants on its way to a stream or storm sewer.

Why can stormwater runoff be a problem?

Poorly managed stormwater runoff can cause a host of problems, including:

Flooding — As stormwater runs off roofs, driveways, and lawns, large volumes can reach streams, causing them to rise quickly and flood. When more impervious surfaces exist, flooding occurs more rapidly and can be more severe, damaging people and property.

Pollution — Stormwater running over roofs, driveways, roads, and lawns will pick up pollutants, such as oil, fertilizers, pesticides, dirt/sediment, trash, and animal waste. These pollutants "hitch a ride" with the stormwater and flow untreated into local streams, polluting our waters.

Streambank Erosion — When stormwater flows into streams at unnaturally high volumes and speeds, the power of these flows can severely erode the banks, which creates dangerous situations and damages natural habitat for fish and other aquatic life. This erosion is another source of sediment pollution in streams.

Lawn and Garden

- Use pesticides and fertilizers sparingly. When use is necessary, follow the guidelines for the recommended amounts. Also, avoid application if the forecast calls for rain; otherwise, chemicals will be washed into local streams.
- Select native plants and grasses that are drought and pest-resistant. Native plants require less water, fertilizer, and pesticides.
- Sweep up yard debris, rather than hosing down areas, and compost or recycle yard waste when possible.
- Don't overwater your lawn and only water during the cool times of the day. In addition, don't let the water run into the storm drain.
- Cover piles of dirt and mulch that are being used for landscaping projects to prevent pollutants from blowing or washing off your yard and into local waterways. Also, vegetate bare spots in your yard to prevent soil erosion.

Home Repair and Improvement

- Before beginning an outdoor project, look around for the nearest storm drains and be sure to protect them from debris and other materials.
- Sweep up and properly dispose of construction debris, such as concrete and mortar.
- Use the smallest amount possible of hazardous substances, such as paint, solvents, and cleaners, and make sure you follow the directions on the label. Clean spills immediately and dispose of the waste safely. Homeowners should store substances properly to avoid leaks and spills.
- Purchase and use nontoxic, biodegradable, recycled, and recyclable products whenever possible.
- Clean paint brushes in an indoor sink, not outside. Also, filter and reuse paint thinner when using oil-based paints. One way to properly dispose of excess paints is through a household hazardous waste collection program. Unused paint can also be donated to local organizations.

- Reduce the paved areas and increase the vegetated areas in your yard. Also, use native plants in your landscaping to reduce the need for watering during dry periods. Homeowners should also consider directing downspouts away from paved surfaces onto lawns and take other steps to increase infiltration and reduce polluted runoff.

(Note: This information was provided by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.)

HOME FIRE SAFETY

By Chief Glenn Jansen

A lot of people think that fires are a problem in older homes, and thus aren't an issue for new homes. This is not the case. For one thing, the leading causes of fires are related to human behavior. Cooking accounts for most dwelling fires, followed by children playing with matches and lighters, and then by people smoking. None of these are related to the structure itself. Electrical fires, which are structurally related, rank fifth in fire causes and account for ten percent or less of all home fires.

The fact is that the home is the most dangerous place for fires. Four out of five people who die in fires die in their homes. Some fire officials think that fire safety is a bigger issue for new homes because they are well-insulated and keep the heat from a fire from leaking out. This contributes to faster, hotter fires that cut escape time. That is why you need to be aware of the fire safety features that can be added to reduce your risk. As you will read in the following sections, having the recommended number of smoke alarms can improve your chances of surviving a home fire by nearly 50 percent. Adding fire sprinklers and smoke alarms can improve your chances to over 97 percent.

Smoke alarms.

Over 92 percent of dwellings have at least one smoke alarm, making them the most recognizable fire safety feature in residences. Unfortunately, they are the most under-regarded safety feature. About one third of them no longer work because people forget to test them, replace dead batteries or replace old smoke alarms.

In new homes, smoke alarms should be powered by the home's electrical system and have backup batteries. They should also be interconnected so that if one unit detects smoke, all of the units will sound. New owners and tenants need to confirm this feature so they know what to expect if a fire occurs.

New dwellings should have the following number of smoke alarms. First, there should be one alarm located outside each bedroom area, close enough to be heard through closed bedroom doors. There should also be one in each bedroom. In addition, there should be at least one on every level. Thus, a 3-bedroom home with a basement should have a minimum of five smoke alarms.

In homes where the bedrooms are not located together, additional smoke alarms will be needed outside the other bedrooms. It is advisable to have more than one on each level if there are several rooms. Remember, smoke alarms cannot work until the smoke reaches them, so every additional smoke alarm cuts the potential response time in a fire.

Maintaining smoke alarms.

Keeping smoke alarms operating is easy. The big problem is dust that can accumulate inside the unit. Remember, air is flowing through them, and air carries dust particles. Once a year, hold a vacuum cleaner up against them to suck out any dust that may have accumulated inside the unit. If the units are battery operated, replace the batteries every year unless you have installed long-life batteries. And never install a 10-year battery in an older smoke alarm. It may leave you with an inoperable smoke alarm.

Replacing smoke alarms.

Like any appliance, smoke alarms wear out after time. Ten years is the recommended replacement time. After operating 24 hours a day for ten years, even well-maintained smoke alarms have a 30 percent chance that they will fail to operate in a fire.

Homeowners to Prepare Mailboxes for Winter

Dover Township public works wants to remind residents that now is the time to prepare mailboxes for the winter months. Snow thrown from plows can easily damage mailboxes that are not prepared. Mailboxes are normally placed within the legal right-of-way; however, mailbox damage is the responsibility of the property owner.

If a mailbox is placed as far from the edge of the road as the carrier can reach from a vehicle and the mailbox is placed on a sturdy support, it should be able to withstand the force of snow thrown from a plow.

PennDOT offers these tips to help reduce the risk of mailbox damage:

- Place a 6- to 8-inch piece of reflective tape on the mailbox to help snow plow operators see it at night.
- Remove snow from around the mailbox, but never throw it back onto the road.
- If the mailbox is located within the legal right-of-way and damage was experienced in the past, homeowners may want to consider repositioning the mailbox before winter.

Homeowners who have followed these tips in the past and have still experienced mailbox damage may wish to consider installing a cantilevered mailbox support that will swing a mailbox out of harm's way. Visit www.dot.state.pa.us for a copy of plans for a cantilever mailbox support. Contact your local post office for more information about how to correctly position a mailbox.

YOGA - At the Dover Township Building 2480 W. Canal Road

YOGA FOR RELAXATION - Tuesday and Thursday Evenings 5:30-6:30 pm

This class allows you to slow down and relax your mind and body. With our busy lifestyles, slowing down can be a difficult thing to obtain. Sometimes it inhibits our sleep and it can get in the way of our focus. Never giving ourselves time to rejuvenate can lead us to being irritable and short with the people we work with and our loved ones. If you have ever had a desire to try yoga but feel as though you are not flexible, thin or young enough, this is the class for you.

POWER YOGA – Tuesday and Thursday Evenings 6:45-7:45

This class has much more movement and is more likely to make you sweat. You will feel both relaxed and rejuvenated by the end of this class as well, it is just a different path to get there. If you have never done yoga before and you have healthy wrists and back, this is a fine class to start with. It is also a great class to continue with.

SATURDAY MORNING YOGA - 8:30-9:30 am.

A fabulous way to shift gears from the work week to the weekend. Shed the worries of the week and re-claim your weekend time with this gentle Yoga class.
